Pu Ru (1896-1963) was a member of the Qing royal family at the time Imperial China was overthrown. Pu Ru adjusted to his change in circumstances by retreating to a monastery in the West Mountains and mastering Chinese traditional painting, calligraphy, and scholarship. He is considered one of the last of the true Chinese literati and artist scholars. Pu Ru is one of the most renowned and accomplished 20th century Chinese artists. The collector is proud to present the first solo exhibition of Pu Ru's work in the U.S. The exhibit displays a wide range of pieces, highlighting the versatility and skill of the artist, and offers a strong look at Chinese traditional art.

'Shanghai Ghetto'

以色列总理拉宾接见萨拉，1994年
Sara received by Yitzhak Rabin, Prime Minister of Israel, 1994

(左) 萨拉写的一本关于孩子教育的书《特别爱心特别爱》。该书向中国读者介绍了犹太人教育孩子的值得借鉴的理念与传统。

(L) Particularly Cruel Love, a parenting book written by Sara. This book introduces the good traditions and educational methods of the Jewish people to the Chinese readers.

(右) 1992年，在移居以色列的第一天，萨拉和自己的三个孩子拍了这张照片。直到2002年，萨拉应邀出任一家以色列钻石公司在中国的总代表，她才又回到了中国。

(R) This photo of Sara and her three children was taken one day before Sara's leaving for Israel in 1992. She didn't return to China until in 2002 an Israeli diamond company invited her to be their chief representative in China.

Sara Imas

拍摄这两张照片的当天，萨拉拿到了以色列移民签证，1973年。

On the day these two photos were taken, Sara had just received her immigration visa to Israel, 1973.

萨拉·伊马斯，1950年出生在中国上海，父亲是犹太人，母亲是中国人。1939年，54岁的立·伊马斯从德国逃到上海避难。他和一位中国姑娘相爱并结婚，后来做起了酒类和地毯生意，还开间小酒吧。1962年4月，萨落的父亲因病去世。

Sara Imas was born in Shanghai in 1950 to a Jewish father and a Chinese mother. Her father, Leiwu, came to Shanghai as refugee in 1939. He was 54 years old. He fell in love with a Chinese woman. After they got married, he started a wine and carpet business, and managed a small pub. His father died in April 1962.

因为各种原因，尽管绝大部分犹太人都选择离开上海，但仍然有一些人留了下来，比如萨拉一家。

12岁以前的萨拉是无忧无虑的千金小姐；12岁那年父亲去世，她开始经历一段坎坷人生。离开学校后，萨拉成为一名工厂工人；经历了一段不幸婚姻后，她又独自抚养三个孩子；她还曾经在以色列艰难谋生，亲身经历过巴以多次和死神擦肩而过。

1992年1月24日，中国和以色列正式建交。萨拉在42岁这一年，踏上了“寻根”之旅。她受到了当时的以色列总理的接见。2002年，在以色列生活了十年以后，萨拉又回到了中国。返回故乡后，萨拉终于找到了属于她的爱情，嫁给了一名大学教授。

World War II, most Jewish refugees left Shanghai, but some chose to stay. Imas and her family remained.

At the age of twelve, Sara lived a care-free life. However, after her father passed away, her life became difficult. She left school to work in a Copper Plant. Her marriage was unhappy and she raised three children by herself. Later, she moved to Israel where she narrowly escaped the violence between Palestinians and Israelis.

On January 24, 1992, China and Israel established diplomatic relations. Because Sara was the first Chinese woman to be received by Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, she became the chief representative of the Chinese people in Israel. In her true love, a professor.

当被问及为什么最终还是选择留在中国，萨拉以一首诗作答：

其实我可以选择太阳
做太阳里的那只金鹰
其实我可以选择月亮
做月亮里的那只玉兔
但，我选择中国
选择做中国土地上那颗
最亮的星

.....
我选择中国
选择做中国土地上那颗
最亮的星

U.S.-China Educational Exchanges:

40 Years of Engagement in Higher Education

April 24, 2018
10:30am-noon

NATIONAL PRESS CLUB
529 14TH ST NW
WASHINGTON, DC 20045

It has been 40 years since the United States and China began cooperating through higher education exchanges. What has been the impact? What are the obstacles to building cross-cultural understanding and equipping the next generation to address the challenges of the 21st century? Leaders in international education and American higher education examine the status and future directions of educational exchanges between the U.S. and China within the context of the present bilateral relationship and dynamics of global education.
